Read the following passage and answer the questions based on it.

The occurrence of a new insect pest, Fall Armyworm (FAW), has been recently reported in Karnataka and also parts of Andhra Pradesh, Telangana, Tamil Nadu, Maharashtra and Gujarat. The pest has been detected mainly in maize fields.

FAW is not new to the scientific community. This highly-destructive and invasive pest has been seen in the Americas since several decades, but its prevalence outside was noted for the first time in West Africa in early 2016. Since then, it has spread to 44 countries across the continent.

The adult moth of the pest migrates very fast — almost 100 km every night. It can, therefore, invade new areas quickly. Also, each female moth is capable of laying 1,500 eggs on an average. The entire lifecycle — from egg to new adult moth that lays fresh eggs — is completed in about 30 days during the summer months. The pest thrives on a wide spectrum of host crop plants: maize, sorghum, rice, sugarcane, soyabean, vegetables, etc.

Yet, FAW can be effectively managed through an integrated pest management (IPM) approach.

The FAW moth lays eggs on the plant's foliage (leaves). The egg stage lasts for only 2-3 days in warmer weather. The next larval stage is the most dangerous one whose entire duration is from 14 to 30 days, depending on the temperature and humidity conditions. The destruction of leaves, stems or flowers of the crop plants by the larva through feeding happens mostly at this stage. Once the larval stage is completed, the growing moth pupates in the soil — for 8-9 days The nocturnal egglaying adults live for about 10 days, while most active during warm and humid evenings.

Scientists at the University of Agricultural Sciences, Bengaluru have scientifically validated the incidence of FAW in maize fields across various districts of Karnataka. There have been isolated reports of the pest's presence in the maize-growing areas of other states, too. Fortunately, it has not caused any significant destruction as yet. But the fact that the moth can travel several hundred kilometers and lay eggs profusely during its lifespan calls for serious concern.

In such a scenario, policymakers — more so, in the states where the pest has already been detected – need to nip the problem in the bud. A mass awareness campaign is necessary to build awareness among farmers and extension workers on how to recognize the various stages of the insect and manage/control it with the right IPM interventions. An effective IPM strategy would need to incorporate host plant resistance (through breeding), biological and cultural control, and use of environmentally-safer chemical and bio-pesticides for crop protection. Spraying of chemicals should be avoided. Cultural control practices can work, especially when the FAW problem is still localised to particular geographies/crops. The eggs laid by the moths are discernible to the naked eye. Farmers can be trained to recognize and destroy the egg masses, so as to prevent the caterpillars from emerging.

डॉ. नगेंद्र की पुस्तक सुमित्रानंदन पंत (1938) शुक्ल जी के जीवन काल में ही प्रकाशित हो गई थी। उन्होंने छायावाद की तकनीक पर विचार करने के लिए इस पुस्तक की प्रशंसा भी की थी। डॉ. नगेंद्र ने छायावाद को 'स्थूल के प्रति सूक्ष्म का विद्रोह' कहा और उसे केवल 'शैली' मानना उचित नहीं समझा। डॉ. नगेंद्र ने साकेत: एक अध्ययन (1939) भी लिखा। इन दोनों पुस्तकों में पंत और मैथिलीशरण गुप्त की काट्य की सहदयता के साथ समीक्षा की गई है। डॉ. नगेंद्र ने पंत के काट्य में विचारों की भूमिका को सबसे महत्वपूर्ण माना है, उनके इंद्रियबोध की संवेदनशीलता को रेखांकित किया है। साकेत को डॉ. नगेंद्र ने 'जीवनवादी' काट्य कहा है।
